

Comparing School Districts' Total Share in the 2017/18 and 2018/19 Basic Education Funding Formula

Basic Education Funding Commission's (BEFC) Recommended Formula

1. A school district's share of the dollars distributed through the basic education funding formula is its share of the total weighted and adjusted student count. For 2018/19, Column F displays each school district's weighted and adjusted student count (statewide total is at the bottom), while Column J shows each district's share of the total (i.e. its share of the formula-driven funds).
 - a. Column B shows the result of Step 1 for 2018/19. Compare this to Column F. If Column F is higher, then the district-based factors in Step 2 directed a greater share of funds for that district. Conversely, if Column B is higher than Column F, then the relatively higher wealth and/or lower tax effort determined by the district-based factors resulted in a smaller share of funds for that district.
2. Column L shows the base funding each school district receives in 2018/19.
 - a. Section 2502.53 of the Public School Code currently holds each school district harmless to a fixed point in time (2014/15 funding level with some adjustments; the total base amount comes out to $5.6 billion) and distributes new money above that level using the formula. Prior to the new formula, Pennsylvania held districts harmless to the previous year.
3. Column M shows the amount distributed through the basic education formula in 2018/19.
 - a. The 2018/19 budget appropriates $6.1 billion for basic education funding, a $100 million or 1.7 percent increase over 2017/18. After accounting for the base amount of $5.6 billion, there is $539 million, or 8.8 percent, remaining to be distributed via formula.
 - b. Column N shows the 2018/19 total basic education funding for each district (the sum of Columns L and M), and Columns O and P provide a comparison to the 2017/18 amount.
